OVERVIEW

This workshop equips NGO leaders and managers with practical frameworks and tools to strengthen organizational governance and ensure mission-aligned, transparent, and sustainable operations. By promoting integrity, accountability, and participatory leadership, the training helps NGOs become more resilient, credible, and impactful in serving their communities. Through case studies, diagnostics, and practical planning tools, attendees will learn to identify governance weaknesses, enhance decision-making structures, and institutionalize policies that build internal coherence and public trust.

Audience

Designed for executive directors, board members, program managers, compliance officers, NGO founders, civil society leaders, and donor agency staff involved in oversight, funding, or capacity building of nonprofit organizations.

Instructors

Led by nonprofit governance specialists, NGO management consultants, civil society lawyers, and donor engagement advisors with experience in institutional strengthening, regulatory compliance, and board development across the NGO sector.
