OVERVIEW

This workshop equips participants with a deep understanding of peaceful dispute settlement mechanisms and the ability to apply them in various contexts. It highlights the legal, procedural, and strategic dimensions of non-violent conflict resolution, from direct negotiation and mediation to formal arbitration and judicial avenues. Participants will build practical skills in facilitation, diplomacy, and structured dialogue, learning how to manage tensions, restore communication, and pursue resolution in ways that uphold rights, relationships, and institutional stability.

Audience

Designed for legal professionals, diplomats, government officials, judges, NGO leaders, conflict resolution practitioners, and international relations specialists. It is especially valuable for those involved in negotiation, dispute management, or peacebuilding at national, regional, or institutional levels.

Instructors

Led by international law experts, senior mediators, seasoned diplomats, and arbitration practitioners with experience in resolving disputes across legal, political, and organizational contexts. Instructors combine doctrinal clarity with field-tested strategies to foster effective and ethical approaches to conflict resolution.
